Blackfoot, June 27th.—Last night there occurred here one of the most daring and successful jail deliveries that is known in the history of the West, and which has resulted in the freeing of one man under sulted in the freeing of one man under sentence of death for murder, and two services. Two years' honors in ancient land the part of a gamble on Doescher's part, just as though he had bet upon the Boston club and was determined they should win at all hazards.

THE NEW PITCHER, VAN HALTREN, From California, occupied the box for the Chicagos, and demonstrated that he was a direct class pitcher in every respect. The umpire did all in his power to down him by calling balls so closely that the audience scholarship awarded in the graduation class fairly howled over the rank decisions. His delivery was somewhat wild, naturally, for by the Umpire. June 27th.-Those who went the visitors had in the box another left-handed pitcher recently signed known as "The South Paw Terror." The two kids were pretty evenly matched, so far as merit and reputation are concerned. The long practice of Van Haltren with the bat bepractice of Van Haltren with the bat before the game, with Sullivan and Daly as the battery, was had with the view of giving the newcomer increased confidence.

The same policy was pursued when Sunday first joined the club.
He could catch welf, and outran any one in the team, but was weak at the bat. For weeks Anson kept him glued to the plate and had other members pitch and throw balls at him to accustom him to a swift delivery. Sunday improved under such treatment, and Van Haltren will get about the same discipline.

The Chicagos came on the grounds at 3:15. First marched Captain Anson, with Van Haltren on his right. Austin's Band followed, and after them marched the other members of the club. Anson and Van Haltren halted at the plate and lifted their caps, and the young pitcher from the famous Greenhood & Morans thus became a full-fledged member of the Chicago Club There were seven thousand people in White Stocking Park when the called by Umpire Doescher. Van Haltren's first ball was pitched to Hornung, and was a "ball." The second was a called strike. The two next were "balls," and then Daly moved behind the bat and put on his mask.

The next was a foul tip, which Daly dropped. The next was a high foul, which was followed by four "balls." The two next were strikes, and Hornung fanned the air and struck out. The cheers could have was heartily received. His running substi-tute was sent to first on "balls." Wise

For the Chicago's Darling was first at the bat. Young Madden sent him to first on balls, which was not a good beginning Ryan received an ovation, and sent a fou ball into Harrison street, following it with a baser. Sullivan faced Madden, and after getting three balls hit for three bases, bringing in two runs amid applause. Captain Anson was cheered and showed his appreciation of it by a two-bagger, scorin Sullivan. Pfeiffer went out at first. Anson went to third and Williamson sent a fine hit to short right, between the three fielders, while Anson scored, Burns was thrown out at first, Williamson go-ing to third. Daly hit to Nash, who muffed it. Williamson, scored, and then Van Haltren took the bat for the first time

Madden was fooled four times on strikes, and the crowd cheered the 'Frisco "terror," while Anson remarked to Pfeiffer that "the new goods was all wool and a yard wide." (Boston 0.) For hicago Darling pounded out a two-baser. Ryan lifted a long one, which Hornung raught near the fence. Darling got to hird on Kelly's muff of the thrown ball, and Sullivan flew out to Wise. Anso waited while the Umpire called thre strikes. Then he struck a hot liner, which doubled up the pitcher, but he recovered

Third inning-For Boston, Henry went out from Burns to Anson. Kelly's run-ning substitute went to first on balls, but an Indian whose brother was hanged at Nanaimo last year, is supposed to have resulted in another out. Wise struck out. (Boston 0.) For Chicago, Pfeiffer hit to Wise, who dropped it. He stole second, and then third, and came in on an overroke out at 2:25 P. M. to-day in J. P. throw. We have steadily held that the way to locate new-comers in any section of Northern California is to make ready the spots they want. The more this is considered the stronger is the conviction that it is the one sound policy; absolutely a condition precedent to gaining new population.

at the East are not those who wish to enter a country where the whole work of precoming to us now don't want frontier life, they want society, comfort, and to begin to sow, if not to reap, the first year.

So, then, the lands and lots must be mad ready in country and in town. In colony tracts the avenues must be laid out; reserves must be set apart, not merely staked and platted, but put in fair order: water brought to every tract; some houses built, the more the better; clearance of the land effected; roads to market guaranteed, and then the investors can nominate their prices with perfect assurance of getting them. But in addition, our towns and our cities must be improved and adorned, and no longer be offensive to the eyes.

Francisco Chronicle, which has examined Chronicle, and lesser sheets like it laboring into the question, warmly approves the in the interests of the book rings, that the "make ready" idea that this journal, in new State school books are costing the peo advanced; it adds forcible reasoning when private publishers. The crying need of California is for both individual and concerted effort and enterprise. We need each to reform himself, instead of seeking to reform his neighbor, and if we would each exercise as much time and strength in extracting a dollar from our own pockets for public purposes as we do in trying to get into our neighbor's pockets, the question of public improvements avoid be solved.

If Californians want California to be a great and flourishing state it is high time for them to realize that they and they alone can make itself rich and prospersum has been aried of are number of years, and to apply this rule invariably to exclude all assisted immigrants." It is a wiser, better and more satisfactory rule in every way than that formulated by Judge Brown's decision, to-wit—that while we may exclude paupers, the burden of proof its promise of the method and enterprise.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Police Commissioners. A special meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners was held late yesterday afternoon, all the members present. Mayor Gregory remarked that there appeared to be a lack of harmony in the department, and its efficiency was thereby impaired. The Board had elected a Captain of Police, but he appeared to be a The Board had elected a Captain of Police, but he appeared to be ignored to a great extent. On one occasion the Captain, in visiting beats of the night watch, endeavored to find an officer on an up-town beat, and devoted a great deal of time and exertion to ascertaining where he was, but unsuccessfully. Next day, in calling the to account, it was ascertained that the Chief had taken him from the beat to assist a down-town officer in arresting some opium fiends, but had failed to notify the Captain. If letters on official business came to the police office in the absence of the Chiet, but when the Captain was present, the officer in charge took possession of them until the Chief's arrival. There were them until the Chief's arrival. There were other matters that were spoken of by the Mayor during the lengthy session, as giving reason for a change of arrangements, and he moved that the Board fix the power and authority of the Control of President.

It was decided that the public schools will be closed on the last Thursday in July, as the end of the present school year. After adjournment of the Board, the members proceeded in a body to the residence of Mr. J. F. Slater, where a large number of friends were gathered to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Slater's marriage. A very enjoyable time was spent until the approach of the management of the successful applicants for teachers' certificates before the Board of Education last week, appeared in the published list, through accident, "Lena Davis."

The State Text-Books.

The San Francisco Call of yesterday says : There has been mismanagement and dishonesty in the State Printing Office in the manufacture of text-books for our pubic schools. A sheet which has always opposed the printing of text-books by the State seizes this opportunity to show that the project is impracticable. Misman-agement and dishonesty are always to be regretted, but they are no worse in the State Printing Office than in other departments of public service. It does not follow, because a few thousand dollars have been added to the necessary cost of text-books by dishonesty or incompetence of the official to whom they work was intracted. the work should be abandoned. A few shot may be poured into the project under cover of such disclosures, but no one will e convinced that the State should abanlon the work because it has so far failed to keep its officials from abusing their trust The fact has been demonstrated that pupil had to pay two or three prices for school books. The State wisely stepped in to save ts people from this needless expense. It s shown not only that text books can be mished at one-half the cost as compared with the corresponding books of private irms, but that the absence of an interested party will conduce to the permanency of the system once adopted. The complaint has been a double one; the pupils were charged two or three prices for books, and on one pretext or another compelled to submit to frequent changes. The State will have no interest in a change. It will continue to turnish books at cost, and will bermit pupils to use books until worn at. If the State has lost a few thousand of officials, the fact is to be regretted. But we do not abolish streets he cause the Street Department makes a poor use of money. We do not tear down a half-completed public building because we make the discovery that the half-completed pertion cost more than it ought to
